FROM MAY 10. TO MAY 17. 1739.

The SPEECH of his Excellency SAMUEL OGLE, Esq; Governor and Commander in Chief in and over the Province of Maryland:

To both Houses of Assembly, at a Session of Assembly, begun and held at the City of Annapolis, on Tuesday the First Day of May, 1739.

Gentlemen of the Upper and Lower Houses of Assembly,

I PRESUME none of you can be ignorant of the Necessity I was under of Dissolving the last Assembly: The Misunderstanding betwixt the Two Houses, having not only put an entire Stop to all Business, but even to the least Intercourse of Messages, the only Means of Accommodating the Affair without the Interposition of the Government.

The ill Effects of Heats and Animosities between the several Parts of the Legislature, have been so plainly manifested on this Occasion, that I flatter myself we are now met together with a full Resolution to avoid them as much as possible.

For my own Part, I can very truly assure you, that no Man is come to this Assembly more sincerely desirous of the Welfare of the Province than Myself, or more willing to give a helping Hand to the Removal of every Obstacle to it's Happiness and Prosperity: But then it must be allowed, that Temper and Moderation will be always necessary, to consider rightly of such Things as may come before us, the wisest Assemblies being liable to be misled by the too great Warmth even of honest and well-meaning Men, as well as by the artful Practices of such as know how to cover their own private and self-interested Views, with the specious Appearance of Zeal for the Publick Good.

It is well known what Pains I took some time ago to continue the Bill for the Payment of his Lordship's Rents and Alienation Fines, by a Duty on Tobacco, as likewise to make our Paper-Money pass in Payment of the 40 per Pole, and Officers Fees, at the Rate of Ten Shillings per Hundred, and with what Warmth and Zeal these Points were opposed by many Gentlemen, who then thought they were doing their Country great Service.

At present, I believe few are so partial as not to acknowledge, that the Government was then acting for the general Benefit and Advantage of the People, whose Interest was greatly mistaken by their own Representatives, which I am perswaded could not have happened, had that serious and impartial Deliberation been made use of, which I am now recommending.

How inclinable the Clergy may be to come into a new Agreement, I cannot take upon me to say, but the Publick Good will, no doubt, be a very strong Motive with them, as I am confident it will always be with the Officers to join with them, whenever an Occasion offers. The many Advantages that would accrue to the Country, by so great an Addition to the Uses of our Paper-Money, seem to me so very evident, that I cannot help recommending to you, to take this Affair, once more, into Consideration, and to try if such a reasonable Medium may not be agreed on, as shall be to the Satisfaction of all Parties; which, I hope, will not prove so difficult a Matter as it may at first Sight appear to be, if we set about it with that Attention and Candor, which an Affair of so much Importance to the Country requires.

If after all our Endeavours, a general Law should be found at present impracticable, the particular Circumstances of our Back Inhabitants will naturally offer themselves to your Consideration; the permitting them to pay their Dues in Paper Money will not only free them from the Necessity they now lie under of making Tobacco, and leave them at Liberty to go upon other Commodities more useful to the Country as well as themselves, but be a Step towards a general Law, which may possibly be brought about by Degrees, as People perceive the Value and Usefulness of our Money increase, with the Enlargement of it's Currency.

Gentlemen,

You are all too well acquainted with the Temporary Laws that are to expire with this Session of Assembly, to make it necessary for me to mention them in particular; however, the Duty of my Station does not permit me to pass over in Silence That for raising the Three-Pence per Hogshead, for purchasing Arms and Ammunition. That Law is so absolutely necessary for the Defence and Safety of the Province, that I think my self obliged to recommend it to you in the most earnest Manner; and I cannot but perswade myself, that my Recommendation will have the more Weight, as you must see by the Accounts, which I shall order to be laid before you, that they are so very clear, as not to leave the least Room to the most malicious Enemies of the Government to make any fair and open Objection to them, whatever they may attempt by private Whispers and Insinuations.

To

To his Excellency SAMUEL OGLE, Esq; Governor and Commander in Chief in and over the Province of Maryland:

The humble ADDRESS of the upper House of Assembly.

May it please your Excellency,

WE are very sensible of the Necessity your Excellency was under, by the Misunderstanding betwixt This and the late Lower House, of Dissolving the last Assembly; and we most sincerely wish it had been in our Power, as much as it was in our Inclinations and Endeavours, to have prevented or removed, by any Method consistent with the Dignity of this House, that Stop to Business which made the Interposition of the Government so indispensable.

Your Excellency has been pleased to express so kindly your Desire for the Welfare of this Province, and your Willingness to promote its Happiness and Prosperity, by giving a helping Hand to the Removal of every Obstacle, that we beg Leave to make our grateful Acknowledgment of Thanks, and assure your Excellency, that we are sufficiently convinced by the late and other Occasions, of the ill Effects of Heats and Animosities between the several Parts of the Legislature.

The Inhabitants of this Province have met with so many Disappointments in their Expectations of real Good and Benefit from the Meeting of Assemblies, for want of the Temper and Moderation you are pleased to recommend, that we are fully resolved carefully to avoid, as much as possible, every Occasion or Step that may interrupt or divert us from the Care and Earnestness we ought to have by the Duty of our Stations, without any private Views, for the Publick Welfare and Prosperity.

Notwithstanding the ill Success of the generous Pains which your Excellency formerly took for the Benefit and Advantage of the People, in your Endeavours to continue the Bill for the Payment of his Lordship's Rents and Alienation Fines by a Duty on Tobacco; and for enlarging the Currency and Circulation of our Paper Money, by the Payment of Officers Fees, and the 40 per Poll therewith: yet your Excellency's recommending this Affair of our Currency once more to our Consideration, will engage that Attention and Candour from us, which a Matter of so great Importance to the Country requires: Nor can we despair of a reasonable Medium being fixt to the Satisfaction of all Parties, since we are perswaded every Officer will most chearfully join with the Clergy, towards procuring the many Advantages that would accrue to the Country by so great an Addition to the Uses of our Paper Money; and although our present Endeavours should not have the desired Effect by a general Law, the next best Step must certainly be, to put our back Inhabitants in such a Situation, as may not only free them from the Necessity of making Tobacco, and leave them at a Liberty to be industrious in other Commodites more useful to the Country as well as themselves, but also may be a Means to prove more plainly and effectually the Expediency of a General Act.

To which his Excellency was pleased to make the following

ANSWER.

Gentlemen of the Upper House of Assembly,

I Return you my hearty Thanks for your kind Address: Your Resolution to avoid as much as possible, every Occasion of Interrupting the Publick Business, and Readiness to proceed to the Consideration of such Points as are of a real Importance to the Welfare and Prosperity of the Province, are such Instances of your true Regard for your Country, as cannot fail of procuring you the Esteem of every sensible and impartial Man in it.

SAMUEL OGLE.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

LONDON, February 7.

THE last Advices from CORSICA, bring, that the Malecontents, after holding a General Council, in which it had been resolv'd not to accept of the Accommodation proposed by France, had publish'd the Reasons which had engag'd them to this Refusal, which are in Substance, "That "the Happiness of the Kingdom of Corsica requir'd that "it should be govern'd by a Sovereign, who, having "no other Possessions, should therefore find himself o-"bliged to remain in the Kingdom, and apply his whole "Attention to govern his People, like the Father of a "Family, who, having but one Child, has no other "View than procuring it all possible Advantages. "That God had given them such a Sovereign as they "demanded in the Person of the Baron de Neuhoff, "who they have acknowledged and proclaimed for "their King. That this Baron, who possess'd no o-"ther Land, applied himself wholly to the governing "the Island according to its Laws, and to render his "Subjects happy. That he and his Descendants, who "are all Corsicans by Nation, exempt from all Ambi-"tion, and content with the little Kingdom which "they shall possess, will open the Ports of it, and fur-"nish with a perfect Neutrality all Nations with Pro-"visions, which will bring Plenty into the Kingdom. "That they had no Room to flatter themselves with e-"ver enjoying a like Happiness under the Reign of any "other Sovereign, as well because under their Reign "the Island could only be govern'd by Ministers, who "would be always a Charge to the Nation, as by Rea-"son that foreign Princes being subject to be in War, "the Kingdom of Corsica would be expos'd to feel the "Inconveniencies of it." One of the Members of the Council, to support these Reasons, said, "That the Ar-"rival of French Troops in the Island would by no "Means alter their Resolutions, since the Body that "was there already was not at all formidable; and if a "greater Number was sent, they could not subsist."

We hear from Hempstead in Hertfordshire of a shocking Murder committed there a few Days ago. A Farmer about 50, having sold some Corn, his Father, about 75, went and receiv'd the Money for it; the Son afterwards calling for the Money where he sold the Corn, was told his Father had receiv'd it: On this the Son went home, and told his Father he wonder'd he would receive that Money, for he intended to pay his Rent with it. On this some Words arose, when the old Man drew out a long Knife, and run it into his Son's Belly about six or seven Inches, and kill'd him on the Spot; his own Family came to prevent Mischief, when too late, and found the Knife sticking in the Son's Belly. On this the old Man was apprehended, and committed to Hertford Goal.

VIENNA, February 12. They write from Constantinople, that the Credit of the Grand Vizier encreases more and more at the Porte, in spite of all the Cabals form'd to destroy him: None of his Predecessors ever made, on returning from a Campaign, so magnificent an Entry into Constantinople as his was after the last, nor have been so generally welcomed by the Acclamations of the People. This Prime Minister soon after his Arrival, caused the Bashaw of Bender, who commanded the last Campain upon the Dniester, to be summon'd to give an Account of his Conduct; he accused him of having neglected the favourable Opportunity which presented itself of pursuing the Russian Army in its Retreat, and pretended that he might have attack'd it with Advantage, and totally ruin'd it. The Bashaw of Bender alledg'd in his Defence, the express Order which he had receiv'd from the Grand Signior not to pass the Dniester: But the Grand Vizier who hated him, not thinking his Reasons sufficient, condemn'd him to be beheaded, which was accordingly executed. This Bashaw is generally regretted, being look'd upon as one of the bravest Soldiers and best Officers in the Ottoman Empire.
